

1. Is the Lands Department responsible for dealing with consultation requests in your community?

2. Does the volume or number of consultation requests impact your organization and take away from your ability to implement your own land governance and community development projects?

3. Does your community have guidelines, protocols, or requirements in place for governments and industry to follow when they are consulting you?

4. How does your community fund the administrative requirements necessary to respond to consultation requests?

5. Do industry/government respond to your needs differently because you are a Land Code First Nation?
